JANUARY 12, 2025

It is our prayer that each one of us will hear God whisper to our heart as we worship and praise Him together. “How majestic is His name in all the earth!”

TODAY'S SERMON PASTOR TOM

PHILIPPIANS God's Word to Philippi

How faithful is Your guidance,
Lord
How certainly You lead
When we await Your perfect will
You fill our every need

I came to You with questionings,
I asked You for a sign;
There were no flashy lights or sounds
To show Your will divine

Instead, You gently led my thoughts
And helped me think it through,
Then placed a peace within my heart
To show it was from You

IS GLOBAL MISSIONS COLONIZATION?

Global missions has been a cornerstone of the Christian faith since the 12 disciples scattered to preach the gospel. Today the call of the Great Commission remains as relevant as ever.

Critics often depict missionaries as cultural imperialists, imposing their beliefs on unwilling recipients; Christian missions, when done well, is unique and beautiful. Christianity celebrates and enhances local cultures. The throne room scene in Revelation 7:9 has people from every nation tribe, and language standing before the Lamb. This illustrates God's celebration of our world's many languages and cultures.

The essence of global mission is offering an invitation, not imposing beliefs – people deserve access to the teaching of Jesus and the freedom to choose whether to follow them.

The Alliance movements is now a global network with national churches leading the charge in their contexts and countries. The Alliance World Fellowship is about all nations working together for the completion of the Great Commission.

The Great Commission calls us to action. Whether you pray, give, send or go there is much work to be done. Together, let's honour the call to make disciples of all nations.
